POWERING YOUR COMMUNITY SINCE 1898

— 2018 Home Energy Assistance Programs

■ HAVING TROUBLE WITH YOUR HEATING BILLS?

The winter heating season can make it difficult for some local families, especially those on a limited or fixed income.

The information in this booklet is provided to inform Belmont Light customers about some of the programs and services that are available to low income residents, residents who are in temporary financial crisis, and those who are ineligible for assistance but need to cut energy costs to help make ends meet.

The Massachusetts Department of Housing and Economic Development income eligibility for the Low-Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP) is 60% of the state median income level. Specific income guidelines and additional eligibility information is listed in the appropriate sections. Residents who are eligible for LIHEAP may also be eligible for other programs.

This booklet also contains information about other resources that are available to Belmont residents, as well as an application for the Belmont Light Residential Low Income Rate Change.

■ 65 YEARS OR OLDER:

If you are 65 years of age or older, Belmont Light reminds you that utility companies may not shut off service to households where all residents are 65 years or older without written approval from the Department of Public Utilities. If you have not contacted Belmont Light informing us that all residents of your household are over age 65, please call us at 617-993-2800 as soon as possible.

■ UTILITY SHUTOFF PROTECTION

Residents under the age of 65 who have a financial hardship are also protected from having their electric or gas service shut off if they have a financial hardship and someone in the home is seriously ill, if there is an infant in the home under the age of 12 months, or if it is between November 15 and March 15 and service is needed to heat the home. If any of these situations apply to you, please call us at 617-993-2800 as soon as possible.

A financial hardship exists when a customer is unable to pay an overdue energy bill and they meet income eligibility requirements for the Low-Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP) administered by the Massachusetts Department of Housing and Community Development. You may be eligible for assistance if your household income does not exceed 60% of the state median income.

HEATING ASSISTANCE

LOW INCOME HOME ENERGY ASSISTANCE PROGRAM (FUEL ASSISTANCE)

Funded through the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, the Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP) assists low-income individuals and families with the cost of heating their homes during the winter season. The program is managed by the Massachusetts Department of Housing and Economic Development in conjunction with 22 regional nonprofit and local government organizations.

This year, LIHEAP will provide fuel assistance to low-income people with annual incomes up to 60% of estimated State Median Income or $66,115 for a family of four. (Income eligibility guidelines can be found on page 8 of this brochure.) Last year, DHED served over 180,000 Massachusetts households through this program and expects more to be served this winter.

The amount of fuel assistance is determined by income, household size, housing status, and heating costs. Tenants in subsidized housing get a reduced benefit. Some households qualify for extra help if their heating bills last year were very high.

LIHEAP-eligible households may also be eligible for weatherization services, heating system repairs, and Citizens Energy heat assistance programs. In addition, Belmont Light offers a lower rate to customers who receive fuel assistance.

Fuel assistance benefits will be paid directly by CTI to the heating company, unless heat is included in the rent. You must pay any part of your heating costs not covered by fuel assistance. If you are eligible for weatherization, emergency furnace repair, Citizens Energy heat assistance, or utility discounts, your fuel assistance agency will explain how to get these benefits.

To access LIHEAP services, Belmont Light customers should contact:

OTHER HEATING ASSISTANCE

GOOD NEIGHBOR ENERGY FUND

If you are not eligible for fuel assistance, you may be eligible for help from the Good Neighbor Energy Fund, a cooperative effort between Massachusetts energy companies and The Salvation Army of Massachusetts. This program provides energy assistance to those in temporary crisis.

The Massachusetts Good Neighbor Energy Fund is available to any Massachusetts resident who, because of temporary financial difficulty, cannot meet a month's energy expense and is not eligible for state or federal energy assistance.

Income must be within 60% and 80% of the state median income. (Income guidelines can be found on page 8 of this brochure.)

The grant per eligible household is $425 per season regardless of the amount that is owed. Grants for a household must be paid directly to the vendor(s). For more information about eligibility criteria and where to apply, call 1-800-334-3047, or visit the website at www.magoodneighbor.org.

LOW INCOME ENERGY PROGRAMS

WEATHERIZATION ASSISTANCE PROGRAM (WAP)

The Low Income Weatherization Assistance Program (WAP) provides eligible households with full-scale home energy efficiency services. Typical work includes air sealing, attic and/or sidewall insulation, weather stripping, and minor repairs associated with weatherization work. Households can expect to see anywhere from 25 to 30% energy savings after these improvements are made with estimated energy cost-savings of more than $500.

The program operates throughout the year and eligibility is based on household eligibility for LIHEAP Fuel Assistance program or if someone in the household gets SSI or Transitional Aid to Families with Dependent Children (TAFDC.) Priority of service is given to those households with elderly, disabled, children (6 and under), LIHEAP high-energy costs, and Native Americans. Homeowners and tenants with their landlord's permission are eligible.

The Department of Housing and Community Development administers WAP on the state level, with funding from the U.S. Department of Energy.

The value of the work varies depending on need. The average value is $4500.

Energy inspectors visit eligible households to see what work needs to be done to save energy. The inspectors also do a health and safety check to make sure that all energy-related systems are working properly. Weatherization workers then make energy-saving improvements as needed.

Households with the greatest need get priority for the Weatherization Assistance Program. WAP services are free.

HEATING EMERGENCY ASSISTANCE RETROFIT TASK WEATHERIZATION ASSISTANCE PROGRAM (HEARTWAP)

Belmont residents who are eligible for fuel assistance and own their own home can get help with heating system repairs or replacement through the Heating Energy Assistance Retrofit Task Weatherization Assistance Program (HEARTWAP). During the heating season, eligible homeowners whose heating systems are not working can get free emergency repairs. In some cases, homeowners can have their heating systems replaced. Priority for HEARTWAP services is given to those clients in an emergency no-heat or unsafe heating situation.

There are maximum allowable expenditure limits for different types of heating system activities. In some instances households may be required to provide a co-payment. Local agencies attempt to utilize all available utility funds for system replacements in an effort to minimize the need for client contributions.

Heating system repairs and replacements must be authorized by the HEARTWAP program before any work is done. Renters do not qualify for this program, as the landlord is responsible for making sure the heating system is working properly, even if the renter pays for heat. Tenants should contact their landlord unless contact fails to resolve a no-heat situation.

Interested households should contact their local Fuel Assistance agency for application information. Households will be required to verify their income, household characteristics, address and home ownership.

ENERGY CONSERVATION

Belmont Light residential customers can obtain information about energy efficiency, energy conservation, and how to reduce energy costs through Belmont Light's partnership with Energy New England.

Energy saving information and advice can be obtained by calling an energy advisor at the Energy Hotline, 888-772-4242.

A complete analysis of the home's energy use can also be obtained by scheduling a free home energy audit. A professional energy advisor will provide useful information and tips on appliance usage and will provide a computerized report detailing recommendations and payback time for any improvements. The advisor will also install up to $30 of energy saving materials during the audit. The 2017 audit includes a free thermal imaging scan and blower door test.

ENERGY STAR® APPLIANCE REBATES

Energy efficient appliances save an average of 15-50% in energy costs and can help reduce the need for additional generation during peak time, saving money and helping the environment. To encourage energy efficiency, Belmont Light residential customers who purchase energy efficient ENERGY STAR® appliances may be eligible to receive a rebate after they purchase a qualified ENERGY STAR® appliance.

The program is administered by Energy New England.

The 2018 ENERGY STAR® Appliance Program includes the following rebates and appliances:

- $100 Refrigerator 15.0 cu. ft or larger (with proof of Belmont DPW vendor disposal)
- $100 Central air conditioner with a SEER rating greater than 14
- $100 Room air conditioner (with proof of Belmont DPW vendor disposal)
- $25 Room air conditioner (with no proof of disposal)
- $100 Heat pump and Hybrid Heat Pump Dryers *
- $75 Dehumidifier

The program is administered by Energy New England.

For additional information about the Belmont Light Appliance Rebate Program call Energy New England at 888-772-4242.

standard dryers, even those with ENERGY STAR labels, do not qualify for the program.*

ADDITIONAL RESOURCES

METRO HOUSING BOSTON

Metro Housing Boston, formerly Metropolitan Boston Housing Partnership, offers wide-ranging resources to provide personalized services and programs that lead families to housing stability, economic security and an improved quality of life. Metro Housing Boston, which serves more than 25,000 households annually, helps residents of Greater Boston bridge gaps in the homelessness prevention and affordable housing system. The organization works with individuals and families who are homeless or at risk of losing their homes to navigate available services. Programs and services address a wide range of housing-related issues, from preventing evictions and homelessness, to helping people find suitable homes, to making rent more affordable. Housing Services include homelessness and eviction prevention, hoarding intervention, fair housing and civil rights.

Metro Housing Boston administers the Rental Assistance for Families in Transition (RAFT) program in 28 communities, including Belmont. RAFT provides families with a small amount of cash assistance and provides an option to having to enter emergency shelter. Eligible families can apply for up to $4,000 that can be used to help retain housing, get new housing, keep utilities on and avoid homelessness. To qualify, a family cannot make more than 50% of the area median income, which was $46,550 in 2017 for a family of three.

Metro Housing Boston offers free workshops and resources to any resident, renter regardless of income, or property owner who has housing-related questions or concerns.

MASSACHUSETTS 2-1-1

Massachusetts 2-1-1 is the national abbreviated dialing code for free access to health and human services information and referral. Mass 2-1-1 is the state's most comprehensive database of human service resources, providing a link between people who need help and people who can give help. This partnership between United Way and Massachusetts Association of Information and Referral Specialists provides information about local services, including food, clothing, shelter assistance, substance abuse programs, crisis intervention, financial and legal assistance, senior care, child care services, mental health services, among others.

Callers dial 2-1-1 to talk to an information and referral specialist who can provide the sensitive and confidential information and referral service they need. 2-1-1 is staffed 24-hours a day.

The Massachusetts Emergency Management Agency (MEMA) and the Executive Office of Energy and Environmental Affairs has designated Mass 2-1-1 as the Commonwealth's primary telephone information call center during times of emergency.

Information can also be obtained online at www.mass211help.org. The site features user-friendly searches by name, agency, keyword and location.
